NEW QUESTION: 1

An advantage of virtualizing servers, databases, and office applications is:

- A. Providing greater resources to users.
- B. Decentralized management.
- C. Stronger access control.
- D. Centralized management.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Virtualization consists of allowing one set of hardware to host multiple virtual Machines and in the case of software and applications; one host is all that is required. This makes centralized management a better prospect.

Incorrect Answers:

- B. Virtualization does not necessarily mean providing greater resources to users, rather it makes it possible for the company to use fewer resources and spread it over more users.
- C. Stronger access control is one aspect of the centralized management dilemma as virtualization may result in privilege escalation.

D. Decentralized management is the exact opposite of what virtualization accomplishes.
