NEW QUESTION: 4

Which statement about the PVLAN is true?

- A. Isolated ports can communicate with the other isolated ports only.
- B. Community ports can communicate with the other promiscuous ports but not with the other community ports.
- C. Community ports can communicate with the other community ports but not with promiscuous ports.
- D. Isolated ports cannot communicate with the other promiscuous ports.
- E. Promiscuous ports can communicate with all the other type of ports.

F. Promiscuous ports can only communicate with other promiscuous ports.

Answer: E

Explanation:

PVLANs provide layer 2 isolation between ports within the same broadcast domain. There are three types of PVLAN ports: - Promiscuous - A promiscuous port can communicate with all interfaces, including the isolated and community ports within a PVLAN. - Isolated - An isolated port has complete Layer 2 separation from the other ports within the same PVLAN, but not from the promiscuous ports. PVLANs block all traffic to isolated ports except traffic from promiscuous ports. Traffic from isolated port is forwarded only to promiscuous ports. - Community - Community ports communicate among themselves and with their promiscuous ports. These interfaces are separated at Layer 2 from all other interfaces in other communities or isolated ports within their PVLAN.
