NEW QUESTION: 1 You have an Azure subscription that contains a virtual network named VNET1. VNET1 contains the subnets shown in the following table. Each virtual machine uses a static IP address. You need to create network security groups (NSGs) to meet following requirements: * Allow web requests from the internet to VM3, VM4, VM5, and VM6. * Allow all connections between VM1 and VM2. * Allow Remote Desktop connections to VM1. * Prevent all other network traffic to VNET1. What is the minimum number of NSGs you should create? A. 0 B. 1 C. 2 D. 3
Answer: A
Explanation: Note: A network security group (NSG) contains a list of security rules that allow or deny network traffic to resources connected to Azure Virtual Networks (VNet). NSGs can be associated to subnets, individual VMs (classic), or individual network interfaces (NIC) attached to VMs (Resource Manager). Each network security group also contains default security rules.

NEW QUESTION: 2 Benutzer haben ein Problem mit einem Office-Laserdrucker. Ein Techniker stellt fest, dass Tonerstaub von der Seite fällt, aber einige bleiben auf dem Papier. Welches der folgenden Probleme ist am wahrscheinlichsten? A. Tonerkartusche B. Übertragungsrolle C. Druckkopf D. Trommel E. Fixiereinheit
Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3 A. Option A B. Option C C. Option D D. Option B
Answer: A
Explanation: Explanation Now the router itself does not have a problem with IP connectivity to the Internet because the router has a globally reachable IP address (34.0.0.3) in this example. The users are not so fortunate, however, because they are using private IP address space, and that kind of address is not allowed directly on the Internet by the service providers. So, if the users want to access a server on the Internet, they forward their packets to the default gateway, which in this case is R1, and if configured to do so, R1 modifies the IP headers in those packets and swaps out the original source IP addresses with either its own global address or a global address from a pool of global addresses (which R1 is responsible for managing, meaning that if a packet was destined to one of those addresses, the routing to those addresses on the Internet would forward the packets back to R1). These are global addresses assigned by the service provider for R1's use.
