NEW QUESTION: 1

Your customer has an existing HP StoreVirtual P4500 G2 multi-site SAN, which has become I/O constrained. They want to implement a new higher performance tier into the existing management group. Which Peer Motion method provides the ability to dynamically rebalance data volumes to the higher performance tier?

- A. cluster swap
- B. dynamic LUN management
- C. Remote Copy
- D. volume migration

Answer: D

Explanation:

Peer Motion on HP StoreVirtual Storage: Volume migration Peer Motion on HP StoreVirtual Storage allows a system administrator to move an HP StoreVirtual volume from one cluster to another, online, without having to reconfigure the host or applications. This is done by simply editing the properties of a volume, selecting the Advanced tab, and choosing a new cluster from the cluster drop-down box. The blocks that make up the volume on the original cluster will begin to migrate to the new cluster, and the LeftHand OS will automatically redirect and proxy requests for blocks to the proper cluster as the data migration is underway. When the migration is complete the iSCSI sessions to the new cluster from the host are automatically restored (assuming the new cluster's virtual IP address has been added to the iSCSI configuration of the host server). A typical use case for Peer Motion could be a volume that contains data for an application that has increasing performance needs. If the volume started out on an MDL SAS cluster, a storage administrator could use Peer Motion to move the volume to a SAS-based cluster. If the volume is on a SAS cluster, the storage administrator could choose to add more nodes to the cluster to provide more performance for the volume, or they could choose to move the volume to an even higher performing tier, such as an SSD-based cluster.

Peer Motion on HP StoreVirtual Storage: Cluster swap The virtualization of storage within an HP StoreVirtual cluster means that the rules about data being tied to physical hardware resources no longer apply. This virtualization allows volumes to be moved dynamically between different physical hardware clusters, and also allows for a feature called cluster swap—the ability to remove existing storage nodes from a cluster and replace them with new storage nodes, online, with no loss of data or data availability.

In one operation, data from the old storage nodes is moved to the new storage nodes, and all IO is properly directed to the correct node. Upgrading to newer, faster, or larger storage nodes does not require any downtime, providing a clear, well-defined strategy for future expansion and growth. As an example, a customer might start out with a cluster of 8 drive systems. As the customer adds more applications and workload to the cluster, they could reach the performance or capacity limit of the nodes. They could easily migrate to nodes with 12 or more drives to increase capacity and performance, without having to bring any applications offline.

NEW QUESTION: 2

- A. ISAKMP
- B. Port security

C. IPsec

Answer: A

Explanation:

A key management protocol standard that is used in conjunction with the IPsec standard. IPsec is an IP security feature that provides robust authentication and encryption of IP packets. IPsec can be configured without IKE, but IKE enhances IPsec by providing additional features, flexibility, and ease of configuration for the IPsec standard. IKE is a hybrid protocol that implements the Oakley key exchange and Skeme key exchange inside of the Internet Security Association and Key Management Protocol (ISAKMP) framework.

ISAKMP, Oakley, and Skeme are security protocols implemented by IKE.
