NEW QUESTION: 3

A company has a set of EC2 instances hosted in AWS. These instances have EBS volumes for storing critical information. There is a business continuity requirement and in order to boost the agility of the business and to ensure data durability which of the following options are not required.

Please select:

- A. Use lifecycle policies for the EBS volumes
- B. Use EBS volume encryption
- C. Use EBS volume replication
- D. Use EBS Snapshots

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Data stored in Amazon EBS volumes is redundantly stored in multiple physical locations as part of normal operation of those services and at no additional charge. However, Amazon EBS replication is stored within the same availability zone, not across multiple zones; therefore, it is highly recommended that you conduct regular snapshots to Amazon S3 for long-term data durability.

You can use Amazon Data Lifecycle Manager (Amazon DLM) to automate the creation, retention, and deletion of snapshots taken to back up your Amazon EBS volumes.

With lifecycle management, you can be sure that snapshots are cleaned up regularly and keep costs under control.

EBS Lifecycle Policies

A lifecycle policy consists of these core settings:

* Resource type-The AWS resource managed by the policy, in this case, EBS volumes.

* Target tag-The tag that must be associated with an EBS volume for it to be managed by the policy.

* Schedule-Defines how often to create snapshots and the maximum number of snapshots to keep. Snapshot creation starts within an hour of the specified start time. If creating a new snapshot exceeds the maximum number of snapshots to keep for the volume, the oldest snapshot is deleted.

Option C is correct. Each Amazon EBS volume is automatically replicated within its Availability Zone to protect you from component failure, offering high availability and durability. But it does not have an explicit feature like that.

Option D is correct Encryption does not ensure data durability For information on security for Compute Resources, please visit the below URL

HOTSPOT

You manage an Azure solution that processes highly sensitive data.

Existing roles are not suited to the granular access control that is required for this data.

You need to recommend solutions to limit access to the data based on selected restrictions.

What should you recommend? To answer, drag the appropriate restrictions to the correct solutions. Each restriction may be used once, more than once or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Explanation:

Automatic access expiration: Privileged Identity Management (PIM)

To protect privileged accounts from malicious cyber-attacks, you can use Azure Active Directory Privileged Identity Management (PIM) to lower the exposure time of privileges and increase your visibility into their use through reports and alerts.

You can now use PIM with Azure Role-Based Access Control (RBAC) to manage, control, and monitor access to Azure resources. PIM can manage the membership of built-in and custom roles to help you:

Enable on-demand, "just in time" access to Azure resources

Expire resource access automatically for assigned users and groups

Assign temporary access to Azure resources for quick tasks or on-call schedules Get alerts when new users or groups are assigned resource access, and when they activate eligible assignments

Time-based access restrictions: Conditional Access

Conditional access is a capability of Azure Active Directory that enables you to enforce controls on the access to apps in your environment based on specific conditions from a central location.

Conditional Access App Control enables user app access and sessions to be monitored and controlled in real time based on access and session policies.
