NEW QUESTION: 1

DRAG DROP

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Box 1:

Box 2:

Box 3:

Note:

* Processing mode has two possible options.

Regular. This is the default setting. When set to regular, partitions will be available to users after data has been loaded and aggregations are created completely.

Lazy Aggregations. When set to lazy aggregations, partitions will be available to user queries immediately after data has been loaded. Aggregations will be created as a separate background process while users start to query the partition.

* Lazy processing performs the task of building indexes and aggregations for dimensions and measure group partitions at a lower priority to reduce foreground processing time and to allow users to query the cube sooner. For lazy processing to occur, you must switch the ProcessingMode = LazyAggregations of your measure group partitions; by default this value is Regular (lazy processing is turned off). When processing a dimension with flexible aggregations such as parent-child or virtual dimension by using the processing enumeration of ProcessUpdate (such as to take into account of member name or hierarchy changes), lazy processing is initiated to ensure that the aggregations are rebuilt on the associated measure group partitions.

* Configure Lazy Processing for the cube, measure group, or partition. If you configure Lazy Processing, the dropped aggregations are recalculated as a background task. While the flexible aggregations are being recalculated, users can continue to query the cube (without the benefit of the flexible aggregations). While the flexible aggregations are being recalculated, queries that would benefit from the flexible aggregations run slower because Analysis Services resolves these queries by scanning the fact data and then summarizing the data at query time. As the flexible aggregations are recalculated, they become available incrementally on a partition-by-partition basis. For a given cube, Lazy Processing is not enabled by default. You can configure it for a cube, measure group, or partition by changing the ProcessingMode property from Regular to LazyAggregations. To manage Lazy Processing, there are a series of server properties such as the LazyProcessing \ MaxObjectsInParallel setting, which controls the number of objects that can be lazy processed at a given time. By default it is set to 2. By increasing this number, you increase the number of objects processed in parallel; however, this also impacts query performance and should therefore be handled with care.

* Incorrect: With Bring Online Immediately enabled, during cache refresh all queries are directed to the relational source database to retrieve the latest data for end users. While this provides users with refreshed data, it can also result in reduced query performance given that Analysis Services needs to redirect queries to the relational source database.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A hacker issued a command and received the following response:

Which of the following describes what the hacker is attempting?

- A. OS fingerprinting
- B. Topology discovery
- C. Performing a zombie scan
- D. Penetrating the system

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 4

Given: The enhanced confidentiality, data authentication, and replay protection mechanisms of the 802.11i-2004 amendment require fresh cryptographic keys. What wireless components are defined by the 802.11i- 2004 amendment to provide fresh cryptographic keys? (Choose three)

- A. 802.1X/EAP Handshake
- B. AES-CCMP Handshake
- C. 4-Way Handshake
- D. EAPoL Handshake
- E. STAKEy Handshake
- F. Group Handshake

Answer: C,E,F

Explanation:

The 4-Way Handshake, STAKEy Handshake and the Group Handshake (a 2-way handshake) are used to generate fresh cryptographic keys whenever required. One such requirement is when the PMKID is not passed in the reassociation request frame to the new AP. Figures 11c and 11d of the 802.11i amendment illustrate the 4-Way and Group handshakes.
