NEW QUESTION: 1

ASP.NET MVC

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Box 1: No

Line 7 executes fine as Name is the string Contoso.

Box 2: Yes

The assertion of Line 16 fails as the Boolean expression net| = 0 evaluates to false (500-500 equals 0).

Note: An assertion verifies an assumption of truth for compared conditions. The assertion is central to the unit test. The Assert class provides many static methods for verifying suppositions of truth. If the condition being verified is not true, the assertion fails. The Assert class throws an AssertFailedException to signal a failure.

Box 3: No

The Boolean expression on line 22, balance >= 0.0f, evaluates to 0 >= 0.0f (true), as balance is set to 0.0f at line 21, and because Contract.ensures is a postcondition.

Note: The Contract.Ensures method specifies a postcondition contract for the enclosing method or property.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Refer to exhibit.

You are asked to write a report on how specific variables impact your client's sales using a data set provided to you by the client. The data includes 15 variables that the client views as directly related to sales, and you are restricted to these variables only.

After a preliminary analysis of the data, the following findings were made:

1. Multicollinearity is not an issue among the variables
2. Only three variables-A, B, and C-have significant correlation with sales

You build a linear regression model on the dependent variable of sales with the independent variables of A, B, and C. The results of the regression are seen in the exhibit.

You cannot request additional data. What is a way that you could try to increase the R² of the model without artificially inflating it?

- A. Create interaction variables based only on variables A, B, and C
- B. Break variables A, B, and C into their own univariate models
- C. Force all 15 variables into the model as independent variables
- D. Create clusters based on the data and use them as model inputs

Answer: D
